We used Trello to manage our project. As we worked on the project, each member would look at the Trello board and drag and drop the items they wanted to work on at the moment. Not shown are the categories Finished, Iteration 1, Iteration 2, and Iteration 3. When a group member finished a part of the project, they would drag that item into the Finished column.